QUESTION 3

Read the case study below and answer the questions that follow:

In Storms River Village lives Fiona Lowndes. She is known as Tannie Fi. She is the Dog Angel. The last nine years she has been helping to uplift the children and animals around the Tsitsikamma area. Helping the animals of the Tsitsikamma area costs plenty of money. A large bottle of *mange medicine, for example, sells for well over R1 000. And each animal with *mange must be injected weekly. For about six to eight weeks. Most of the money comes from Stormsriver Adventures. R200 000 in total was sponsored last year. They are a Fair Trade Tourism company.

They offer forest canopy tours and other activities in Storms River Village. TBCSA has endorsed Stormsriver Adventures. They are one of a handful of adventure companies to be granted membership. Hereby Stormsriver Adventures complies fully with SATSA's strict code of conduct. And it is no longer a lone mission. Now she works with Norman Charles. He also works at Stormsriver Adventures.

The local children help Fiona and, in doing so, learn helpful values of nurturing, apart from practical skills of animal husbandry. Norman Charles, the other half of the Dog Angel team.
